Ghana is frontrunner in meeting the single currency criteria: Government has stated that Ghana is the most compliant country in the last assessment of the member states of the West Africa Monetary Zone Status. Ghana emerged the second-best performer in terms of trade integration and Economic Commission of West African State (ECOWAS) trade related protocols (Peacefmonline).

There’s ‘relative stability’ in the exchange rate: The Bank of Ghana (BoG) has assured that the cedi is relatively stable against the major international trading currencies. This is in sharp contrast to the cedi’s performance and the impression by some Ghanaians including importers. The cedi has depreciated particularly against the dollar over the few days (Peacefmonline).

Inflation drops to 6-yr low: The general prices of good and services in the country fell by 0.4 percent, the lowest ever recorded since January 2013 when the rate hit 8.8 percent (B&FT online).

Chocolate imports cost us$45m: Cocoa Processing Company (CPC) Limited has stated that Ghana spends an average of US$45 million (GHC216 million) every year to import chocolate and other cocoa derivative. The imports are mostly done in the last quarter of the year, strategically to meet increased demand during the Christmas and New Year celebrations (Peacefmonline).

Ghana may auction Eurobonds with or without final IMF review: Government has stated it intention to proceed with a sale of Eurobonds even before the International Monetary Fund (IMF) completes a final review of the nation’s extended credit-facility program. The finance ministry will name transaction advisers for a planned issuance of $3 billion (Bloomberg).

GHC54m judgment debt hit: Ghana Railway Company Limited is on the verge of losing some of its properties in Sekondi in the Western Region after a High Court hit it with a GHC54 million judgement debt. Ghana Railway Company Limited in 2006 laid off about 674 workers without recourse (Ghanaweb).

Spare parts dealers threaten to pass on cost to consumers: Spare parts dealers have threatened to pass on cost to consumers due to depreciation of the local currency. The cedi since January this year has seen about 2.4 percent depreciation reducing in value against the dollar. The decline in the value of the currency is beginning to have a negative impact on traders, particularly importers (Citinewsroom).

Ghana making reforms to improve ease of doing business ranking: Government of Ghana has stated that the introduction of new reforms by the end of this month should see Ghana make significant improvement on the World Bank’s ease of doing business list for 2019 (Citinewsroom).

Africa needs industrialisation to drive its development transformation: The Ministry of Trade and Industry (MoTi) has stated that the surest way for Africa economic development is to pursue industrialisation agenda. The sector Minister mentioned that Africa needs to tie its industrialisation agenda to training and building the skills of their people, as it builds its infrastructure to help push the agenda. He said there is the need to identify the role of the governments and the private sector towards the developmental transformation of the Continent. He noted that, government had identified the auto industry as one of strategic pillars of growth, therefore working to develop skills in that sector. With this the educational institutions are aware of the content and the quality of skills required (Ghananewsagency).
